

Assessment Checklist {for each grading period}

©www.thisreadingmama.com

The knowledge we gain from assessing our students is the engine behind our teaching.

We need to know what they know (or don't know) to guide our instruction.

These editable assessment sheets can help you keep track of your assessments.

The first checklist has several important areas of literacy already filled in with two more editable fields.

The second one is completely editable in case you have mandated assessments that are different than what we have listed.
